

CAOL ILA 1980 / 34 YO

Samaroli | Cask No. 4933 | 2014 Release

One of our all-time favorite whiskies is the Samaroli - Caol Ila 1980/2014. It is an exceptional whisky, bottled at cask strength in April 2014 in Scotland from the carefully selected cask no. 4933. After bottling, it was left to mature for a few more months. This limited edition whisky comes in only 190 bottles.

Tasting notes

Aroma

Deep aromas of wax and peat.

Taste

Notes of tobacco, iodine and a subtle hint of caramel

Finish

Long, with peppery hints

About Independent Bottler Samaroli: Samaroli is probably Italy's most renowned independent bottler, considered a visionary by most. Impeccable taste and an eye for aesthetics have given numerous of his bottlings a worthy place in the pantheon of whisky and rum giants. Today the production is under Antonio Bleve's direction, who has collaborated with Samaroli for many years and shares the passion and philosophy of the house. Antonio Bleve continues his quest for exceptional casks, relying on the brand's historical relationships and new interactions, making their latest bottlings increasingly in demand.