

SAMAROLI CARIBBEAN SOUL

2018 Edition Blended Rum

A blended rum that combines different styles of rums from the Caribbean (1998 Demerara, 2005 Venezuela, 2006 Panama), this fusion displays the flavor profile of each region. Bottled in Scotland in October 2018. Only 376 bottles are available worldwide

Tasting notes

Color

Amber

Aroma

Spicy, mineral and elegant.

Taste

Notes of star anise, cinnamon and sea salt are found on both the nose and palate. The aftertaste is slightly oily and floral.

Finish

Long and persistent.

About Samaroli Samaroli is an independent bottler of rare rums and whiskies from around the world. The company was originally founded by Silvano Samaroli in 1968, who at the time was the only non-British or non-Scottish person in the trade. His passion, knowledge and experience of almost 50 years of individually selecting the best casks allowed him to expose the complexity of each of the spirits, maintaining their harmonious balance and outstanding taste. The maturation is carried out in Scotland, where the climate (cooler than in the Caribbean) enables longer ageing and consequently cleaner more elegant rums. Every bottle is numbered and dated. The company is lead today by Antonio W. Blevé who after a long time of collaboration and love for the company's philosophy, has continued to deliver outstanding unique releases of single cask whiskies and rums.