

TOMINTOUL 1967 / 46 YO

Samaroli | Cask No. 5417 | 2013 Release

One of the first whiskies by the late Silvano Samaroli. A limited edition exclusively for Switzerland, bottled at natural cask strength. This 46-year-old Speyside whisky makes a wonderful addition to a collection of rare and vintage whiskies. Only 250 bottles were released.

Tasting notes

Color

Shiny, intense golden straw yellow

Aroma

A wonderful light cloud of honey and vanilla on the nose, accompanied by delicate nuances of tangerine and saffron. A touch of leather and peanut complete this rare experience.

Taste

Smooth and slightly peated, it delivers subtle tones of pear, lavender with strong aromas of sesame, rosemary and spices.

Finish

The finish has slight hints of hazelnut, honey and salted caramel.

About Independent Bottler Samaroli: Samaroli is probably Italy's most renowned independent bottler, considered a visionary by most. Impeccable taste and an eye for aesthetics have given numerous of his bottlings a worthy place in the pantheon of whisky and rum giants. Today the production is under Antonio Bleve's direction, who has collaborated with Samaroli for many years and shares the passion and philosophy of the house. Antonio Bleve continues his quest for exceptional casks, relying on the brand's historical relationships and new interactions, making their latest bottlings increasingly in demand.
